Interested in Becoming an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion?
(Eucharistic Minister)

Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHC) are women, men, and young adults who assist the priest each week with the distribution of the Body and Blood of Christ. You must be 16 years of age or older and a fully initiated Catholic in order to participate in this ministry. Participation requires attendance at a formation/training session conducted by the Diocese and yearly formation meetings at the Parish. The next Diocesan formation/training will be held here at Holy Angels on February 22, from 10:30 AM to 1:30 PM. To sign up for this formation session, please contact Amy Press in the Parish Office at 82 Possum Park Road, Newark, DE 19711, apress@holyangels.net, or (302) 731-2219. Note that this training session will also count as recertification for current Eucharistic Ministers.

Spring Bible Study

We will start our spring Bible Study, The Book of Exodus, on Monday evening, February 24 in the Holy Angels Church Archangels (Conference) Room.

The Exodus story, with familiar characters and events, has been told and retold for thousands of years. It has been the topic of many an epic film. Yet, beyond the cinematic events, there is a growing awareness in Exodus of the saving presence of God, who liberates, redeems, calls, negotiates, forgives, and challenges. God forms a chosen people through Exodus. The Exodus is the foundational event that underlies Hebrew and Christian Scripture.

The study is not a lecture format. It is a prayerful, self-study of the selected materials that concludes each week with small group sharing and a video. The study will meet every Monday evening from 7:00 – 8:30 PM, until April 7.

There is a $20 registration fee that covers course materials. To register, please contact Beth Cresswell by email, bethcresswell@yahoo.com or via phone: 302-584-7427.

Flags in Church

During periods of national crisis, it became popular to post a country's flag inside churches. The practice showed another layer of unanimity within the assembly of believers, signified the country's prayers for security and peace, and tapped the emotional relationship between national pride and religious belief. When the periods of crisis waned, the flags remained. It probably seemed unpatriotic to remove them.

The papal flag commonly took up a position next to the national flag. It carries the pope's coat of arms, a triple tiara, and crossed keys, symbolizing his ministry as ruler and successor to Peter, the apostle to whom Jesus entrusted the keys to the kingdom of heaven, and who, tradition holds, first served as bishop of the church at Rome. The tiara and keys are depicted in the noble colors of silver and gold.

The two flags often adorned a church's sanctuary. However, since the Second Vatican Council's appeal for simplicity in the liturgy, the sanctuary has become more reserved for those features necessary for the celebration of Mass. The removal of flags from the sanctuary does not promote disloyalty to church or state, but may assist the prayer of those gathered for the Eucharist by keeping their attention fixed on its central symbols: the altar, ambo and chair, as well as the bread and wine.

At funerals, a national flag may be placed on a coffin before it arrives at the church and after it leaves (Order of Christian Funerals 132). During the funeral, a coffin is covered with a white pall, symbolizing the baptismal garment.
